

CASE STUDY AUMA Riester GmbH & Co. KG

AUMA has been developing and building electric actuators and valve gearboxes for over 50 years. It supplies a wide range of industries including water, power, oil & gas and general industry.

As a global organization, with 2,600 employees and over 40 entities worldwide, AUMA is facing a growing complexity regarding financial and tax compliance, changes to existing business models as well as mergers & acquisitions. In order to keep pace with these challenges AUMA was searching for a reliable partner who is able to support its development and to deliver high quality and efficient services on a global stage.

For this reason, AUMA relies on the global network from Kreston Bansbach.

“We wanted to deliver more efficient co-ordination of the group audit and the consolidated financial statements as soon as possible,” said Eike Neumann, the Kreston Bansbach lead partner. “In addition, we enhanced managing AUMA’s international consulting project and teams.”

As a result we also work together on other consultancy-intensive projects such as international transactions, international and complex transfer pricing, expansion projects as well as assisting the establishment of new AUMA companies and cross-company reorganisation projects.

Our expert team carries out complex and detailed work, such as financial, tax and legal due diligence in the context of transaction projects. We delivered on time, on budget and within all required legal deadlines.

It was the right decision to engage Kreston as our trusted consulting company for numerous complex national and international projects. Especially the global coverage and presence of the Kreston network has proved to be a real value and key enabler for the success of our projects.
